She said they are allowed to go on private property, remove a vehicle, and take it across state lines to be crushed without proof of ownership from the seller if the car is over 12 years old.
- Mr. Baker stated that any laws that deal with this situation are going to be state laws and that state laws preempt any local laws.
- Chief Crockarell stated that we brought the code forward and created it, and it is modeled after state law and has no impact on what Kentucky does.
- Mr. Baker suggested letting the investigation play out and also bringing it to the attention of the District Attorney's office.
